For Saturday and Monday---A Great Sale

Cottons and Flannels

at Prices to Produce Immediate Clearance

Tuesday, January 21, we take stock. All surplus stocks must go before this last period of stock taking; the market value has very little to do with price making; our one desire is to reduce all merchandise to the lowest point of safety. Therefore, we offer our customers

Bleached and Unbleached Cottons

of Well Known Brands at Exceptional Savings

39c "FRUIT OF THE LOOM," bleached, yard wide, 186 yards in lot, now, per yard 29c

35c "HILL" AND "FIRST CHOICE" COTTON, bleached, yard wide, 225 yards in lot, now 25c

35c "LOCKWOOD A." unbleached, 40-inch, 92 1/2 yards in the lot; now, per yard 27c

35c "DALTON" COTTON, bleached, yard wide, 328 3/4 yards in lot; now, per yard 23c

Bring in your utility birds, for the dollar or so that you'll invest may mean many more dollars to you on your birds next winter. The government is back of you; that is why they are sending their poultry expert here.

Attorney F. M. Andreani of Los Angeles, Cal., formerly of Barre, arrived in the city this morning for a brief stay and spent the greater part of the day in renewing his acquaintances. He may leave to-night to return to Los Angeles. He is a partner in the legal firm of Andreani & Haines, having offices in the Bankers' International building in Los Angeles.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock at Hedding Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. B. G. Lipsky, the pastor, will preach a sermon on "Youthful Religion." This service is planned especially for the members of the Sunday school, although a cordial invitation is extended to everyone to attend. At last night's meeting there was a goodly number present and great interest was shown in the close following of the sermon by those present. The message was a continuation of that of the previous evening, when the subject was "God, the Great Lover," the text being found in Romans 8:3. This evening will complete the first of two weeks of special evangelistic effort by the pastor and the members of the church working in unison. The services will continue throughout next week.

MONTPELIER

Capital City grange, No. 469, P. of H., held its regular meeting in Odd Fellows' hall Jan. 9 at 8 o'clock. District Deputy R. C. and Mrs. Collins of East Montpelier were present and installed the officers for the ensuing year as follows:

Master, W. D. Walker; overseer, R. B. Thresher; steward, Clarence Walker; treasurer, Annie L. Griffin; secretary, W. J. Fiddock; gatekeeper, Earl Curtis; secretary, Mrs. O. L. Cheever; assistant steward, Cecil Neil; chaplain, Mrs. Ella Hartwell; Ceres, Mrs. F. B. Thomas; Pomona, Mrs. R. B. Thresher; Flora, Mrs. W. D. Walker; lady assistant steward, Laura B. Walker. The work was done in a pleasing and impressive manner and at the close W. C. Colton, acting for the grange, presented the retiring master, O. L. Cheever, an emblem watch charm, for which he responded. Mrs. F. L. Cooley gave an interesting recitation. There were 46 members and 11 visitors present, several members of the legislature adding to the interest of the meeting. At the close, all repaired to the dining hall, to enjoy the harvest supper and a social hour. The next meeting will be held Thursday, Jan. 17. Visitors and members of the legislature are always welcome.

Two hearings took place on Thursday afternoon before the public service commission, in which the Twin State Gas & Electric company were the petitioners. The first was a petition asking for authority to issue bonds for mortgage purposes, while the second was asking for authority to run a pole line into Bennington from across the Massachusetts line and to issue security to finance the construction of the same. The company was represented by John N. Harvey and the state by Attorney General H. G. Barber. The commissioners went to Middlebury last evening to hold a hearing there to-day.

James Laird has returned from his service in the army, having been granted a discharge. Stanley Jangraw has also returned home.

District Deputy B. A. Sumner of the Knights of Pythias is completing arrangements for the district meeting of the lodge, which will be held at the Hotel Barre, Saturday night, Jan. 19.

Public dance, Saturday night at Clan Gordon hall. Same orchestra, same crowd, and same price. Also Vermont's noted Irish tenor, James Bennett, is included in the program.—adv.

the lodge, which will take place in Montpelier the evening of Jan. 23. The Barre team will work one degree. The Montpelier lodge will be offered, as far as it does the work, by past chancellor commanders. It is expected that Grand Chancellor Commander Miner of Rutland will inspect the work. An invitation has been extended to those members of the legislature who are members of the order to attend the meeting. It is expected that representatives of Groton, Topsham, Marshfield and Waterbury lodges in the district will attend and that possibly a delegation from the Hardwick lodge may be present. A committee composed of G. W. Luce, Frank Pratt and Mr. Sumner have been named from the Montpelier lodge to complete the local arrangements.

The Montpelier Industrial corporation elected officers yesterday afternoon as follows: President, George L. Blanchard; vice-president, H. J. Volholm; clerk and and Frank H. Tracy. It was voted to treasurer, E. M. Harvey; directors, Messrs. Blanchard, Volholm, E. H. Deaver, J. G. Brown, T. E. Callahan, George D. Pitkin, Louis Gould, G. R. Bianchi and in the last of the stock by Feb. 1 and to make a contract with the DeLue company, which is now established in the Green Syrup of Tar building and manufacturing shirts.

Developing Better Home-Grown Bulbs. To determine the practicability of successful growing flowering bulbs and to do the work at a cost which will enable the industry to thrive in this country in competition with imported stock of similar character, experiments are being undertaken by the United States department of agriculture at a bulb farm which it maintains at Bellingham, Wash. Besides the work at Bellingham, some species are tested at two plants in California. At the Bellingham station, from 5 to 7 acres are annually devoted to bulb growing, and so far several species of commercial bulbs have responded so well that the stock produced has proved superior to the imported stock of the same species. In the fall of 1917 a carload of bulbs grown at the Bellingham gardens was shipped east and constituted the supply of this class of bulbs used in the congressional seed distribution. This car of bulbs was the first full carload of bulbs ever shipped across the continent. Last fall another full carload of similar stock was sent east for the same purpose.

New Crops for California.

Special crops are needed for conditions near the coast of California and in the mountain districts, where the weather remains cool at all seasons and many crops fail to grow or to reach normal maturity, and the United States department of agriculture is conducting experiments with a number of plants, many of which have been imported for this purpose. Special interest attaches to the possibility of securing varieties of potatoes and other root crops from the high table lands of South America, which are able to grow under conditions of low temperature. Numerous other food crops, fruits, and useful trees that grow successfully in the cooler mountain regions of South America are being studied to determine their possibilities of use in California. Among these are varieties of Indian corn from the cool table lands of Peru, including the remarkable large-seeded Cuzco type of maize.
